

The majority of States showing employment trends above the national average were located west of the Mississippi River.

📍 The majority of States that were below the national average in 2008 were located in the Southeast and West.

FIGURE 6 Percent change in annual employment by State

2007–2008

